

BREVITIES.

T. H. Johnson of Sosserville is rusticated in Reno.
Miss Nellie Madden arrived from Virginia City last night.
R. D. Wright of Los Angeles is stopping over here for a few days.
Hon. G. W. Baker arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning.
Governor Colcord and wife arrived from Carson last night and remained over.
There will be some new features introduced at the soiree to-night. Everybody invited.
Mrs. J. L. Wines, who has been visiting friends in San Francisco, returned yesterday morning.
Major Lathlean, an old time Unionville boy, passed through yesterday morning on his way to Calistoga, California.
About seven inches of snow covered the ground yesterday morning. It thawed rapidly during the day, making the streets quite slippery.
Isaac P. Weaver, a prominent and highly esteemed citizen of Northern Lander, died last Wednesday. He had been in poor health for many years.
General Ducat, a wealthy Chicagoan, aged 60, married Miss Dupont, aged 22, and a niece of his former wife, at Coronado Hotel, California, last Wednesday.
Jerald Ede, son of Stephan Ede, the Truckee Meadows rancher, came up yesterday morning from San Francisco, where he has been at work in the store of his uncle.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Foulks of Verdi are going to San Francisco to be present at the commencement exercises of the California State University, where their son George graduated on the 13th instant.
The late storm, which was one of the longest and heaviest of the winter here, did not extend East very far. Passengers on yesterday's west-bound train said there was neither snow nor rain on the Humboldt.
The counsel in the case of the Bank of Nevada vs. Wm. Webster, finished their argument on the jurisdiction of the Justice's Court to try the case yesterday noon, and it was taken under advisement by Justice Lian until Monday.
The JOURNAL in receipt of a copy of the annual report of the State Board of Assessors and Equalization for the year 1891. It contains much interesting information of a statistical character and a full report of the proceedings of the Board.
The Elko Independent says Thomas Parker and Joseph Lundreger, two of the men who were so badly frozen while making their way from Richmond Mining District to Carlin, have been taken to the County Hospital. Dr. Meigs amputated the toes of Parker's right foot and both of Lundreger's feet at the instep.
Do not forget that Wolfenbarger, the great temperance speaker, and Hookins, the sweet singer, will appear at the Opera House this evening. Those who have heard the gentlemen speak highly of their qualifications for the work in which they are engaged. As they have to leave on the west-bound train, the exercises will begin at 7 o'clock sharp.
Charles Clough and G. T. Crosby purchased a half a block of land on Virginia street, near the State University. They erected a handsome dwelling house on the ground and recently disposed of it to Charles Robbins, who has moved here with his family. Now Messrs. Clough and Crosby are making arrangements to erect a nine-room, story and a half residence on the lots adjoining that which they sold.
J. E. Rogers, a Canadian officer, arrived yesterday, for the purpose of taking back the Dominion Thomas Williamson, who is wanted at Toronto to answer to a charge of forgery. Williamson, it will be remembered, was twice before arrested on the same charge and released on habeas corpus. This time the officer has extradition papers from the Secretary of State at Washington for Williamson's transfer.
Superintendent Jackson of the Holmes Mine and Superintendent Shockley of the Mount Diablo Mine, at Candelaria, have gone to San Francisco, whence they go to Mexico to examine mining properties. The Candelaria mines cannot be profitably worked while silver is less than a dollar an ounce, and wages over three dollars a day. The cost of living is said to be high in Candelaria and miners cannot afford to work at less than $3.50 per day, and the mines will not stand that rate with silver 30 cents an ounce below par.

JOE KLEIN'S BODY.
How It Was Found in the Snow.
The Carson Appeal gives the following additional particulars of the finding of Joe Klein's body near Strawberry on the Placerville road: Will Watson, the young man whom Jake Klein commissioned to search for the body of his son, succeeded with a party of men in finding the remains on Wednesday. They left Placerville a few days ago and went along the old route on snowshoes, carefully examining every cabin along the road and in one of the cabins found where the lost party had camped, built a fire and cooked some meat. On Monday they came upon the body by the wayside, first seeing a foot protruding from the snow.
The poor fellow was lying on his face and looked as if he had stumbled and fell with exhaustion, and the storm had covered him. The body was fully identified as that of Joe Klein, and will be taken to San Francisco via Placerville for burial.

WHY Royal Baking Powder is Best

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"I will go still further and state that because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation,

"the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the Purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Coinage Prospects—Harter's Bill—General Keating seriously ill.
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 1, 1892.
EDITOR NEVADA STATE JOURNAL:—The Fifty-Second Congress is now in the third month of its existence, yet it has not materially advanced any legislation, nor is the present week likely to work any change in this particular. The Senate is waiting on the House, where the appropriation bills must originate; and in the absence of rules conferring the necessary authority, the House committees are unable to report any measures.
DELAY CAUSED BY CRISP'S ILLNESS.
Under the temporary order of the House made to facilitate business prior to the adoption of a full set of rules, to-day was devoted to the introduction of bills under a call of the States. Delay in the work of the House has been caused by Crisp's illness and his inability to act with the committee on rules.
THE SILVER QUESTION.
An effort is being made by certain Senators to prevent Congress from making any special effort to pass a free coinage or silver bill. Men who are close to these gentlemen are of the opinion that legislation on the subject can wisely be delayed. They say, the lower House could easily pass the most ultra free coinage bill and carry it over the Presidents promised veto. The Senate could undoubtedly pass a bill, but it could hardly muster a two-thirds vote to kill a veto, and yet, some of the big men of this Congress think that by a little delay much can be accomplished.
Chairman William M. Springer, of the Ways and Means Committee, is outspoken for delay. He said:
"I am a bimetalist and as such I cannot support any policy that would relegate silver to the rear or eliminate it from political discussion. On the contrary, I would make it a great national and international question and would settle it upon lines as broad as possible and at the earliest time practicable."
HARTER'S IDEAS.
Now and then, some financial crank rises above the general order of things and pleads an idea, as if the world depends upon it for its welfare. The latest in this is a gentleman from Ohio by the name of Harter, who represents that great State in Congress. The bill he recently introduced in the House, which is intended to increase the circulating medium and to extend the National Banking system, said in an interview I had with him, that it provides for a repeal of the present peculiar and prohibitory tax upon the State note circulation, and fixes the same rate of taxation upon notes of the banks issued under State authority as is paid upon National Bank notes. This change, if it becomes a law, will insure a large increase of good money in the main. It must be very good indeed to have any general circulation or get much outside of the States in which it is issued. In this latter case it will prove the kind of money (local) which the West and South ask for, and which the unlimited coinage of silver would never secure them. It will be a kind of money which banks can issue only upon express State authority, and in nine out of ten cases such security will be required, and such restrictions will be placed about it as to make it promptly redeemable at all times in United States legal tender money. Every State will recognize the necessity for this, in order to insure even the existence of State Banks alongside the National Banks.
"The results of my bill," he said, "will be immeasurably safer than free coinage, for the proposed 41 cent dollar is to have a legal tender value of 100 cents, and the farmer, the workman, the savings bank depositor, the pensioner, the washerwoman, the man or woman of fixed income, and, indeed ninety-nine out of every one hundred, must take it for 100 cents. The bank note must be kept equal to gold or silver, or it will not be accepted at its face value or circulate successfully."
BLAND'S BILL TO PASS.
If Mr. Springer had it to do over again it is certain that he would not make the positive statement he did some time ago, that no silver legislation would be passed by the House, as it is now regarded by those who claim to have made a careful canvass of the House, as certain that a free coinage bill, recently introduced by Mr. Bland, Chairman of the Committee on Coinage Weights and Measures, will be made the basis of a measure which will be reported favorably from the committee and passed by the House. The committee has decided to vote on the Bland bill on the 10th of the month.
GENERAL KEATING AND SENATOR JONES.
For the past week, General Keating has been confined to his room at the Arlington

Hotel with the grippe. His illness must be serious, as his physician, Dr. Sowers, has given strict orders to admit no one to his chamber. Senator Jones has almost entirely recovered from the same complaint and it is said that in a few days he will be permitted to leave his room.
R.
COSMO AND GOLDEN GATE COMPANIES.
Outgrowths of the Syrup of Figs Company.
The Directors of the Cosmo Commercial Company and Golden Gate Advertising Company held a meeting yesterday at the office of the Secretary. As there is a great deal of business to transact, they were unable to complete their labors, and will meet again to-day. The Board consists of R. E. Queen, W. T. Fonda, J. F. Condon, Judge T. E. Haydon and J. J. Quinn. This Board also represents the Syrup of Figs Company, whose business is increasing so rapidly that the sales are expected to exceed a million dollars this year. The books show an increase of sales for the last two months of $3,000 over the corresponding months of a year ago on the Pacific Coast alone, which represents less than one-eighth of the whole business, which has increased in a corresponding ratio. The Syrup of Figs Co. has the enviable reputation of being the best patron of newspapers in the United States, if not in the world, paying more than $500,000 annually for advertising. They are desirous that all should be benefited by their success. The Company employs about twenty persons in San Francisco in the manufacture of their medicine, and over twice that number in their Eastern manufacturing. They have just moved to their new quarters in the three-story brick building on Hayes street, San Francisco, their former place on Howard street being too small to accommodate their growing business.
The Company has also a six-story building in Louisville, Ky., which was erected expressly for their use at a cost of $35,000. The Company has been in existence only a comparatively short time, and its remarkable success shows what energy, merit and the liberal use of printers' ink will accomplish, not forgetting that Syrup of Figs is all that is claimed for it.

ESMERALDA STYLE.
How a Wabaska Schoolmarm Rewarded Her Friends.
The Virginia Chronicle says a letter from Wabaska, contains the following information: "Last week the trustees of the Wabaska school held a meeting and decided that the lady teacher's services in that district were no longer needed and discharged her, and authorized one of the board to go to Virginia and secure a new teacher. During his absence the citizens held a meeting and prevailed upon the other two trustees to reinstate her. The schoolmarm was so elated over the event that she took the crowd to Wabaska, vaqueros and all, and set up the cigars."

UNCLE SAM'S FLEET.

Benjamin F. Tracy, Secretary of the Navy.
The difficulty with Chilli has called the pleased attention of the American people to the strength of her fleet and the ability of the Secretary of the Navy. In the event of hostilities with the little South American Republic we would have for immediate service, of modern vessels 2 coast defenders, 11 cruisers and 6 gunboats. This list excludes torpedo-boats, ships unlaunched, and ships unavailable for six months, this last group including the New York, the Raleigh, the Cincinnati, the Maine, the Texas, and the Ammen ram. As compared with the past the naval strength represented is considerable. To the energy of Secretary

Tracy our preparedness for war is largely attributable. The portrait is of a man of massive and powerful frame, with close-cut white hair and beard, a strong nose, gray eyes and a firm chin. He knew nothing of the duties of the office he has filled so well when he received the appointment from President Harrison, on March 5, 1889. Secretary Tracy was born in Tioga County, N. Y., about sixty years ago. He was admitted to the bar in 1851, and was elected district attorney in 1854. In 1862 he raised two regiments for the Union army, of one of which he received command. He left the army with the rank of brigadier-general. Since then he has been twice prominently before the public, in 1875 as counsel in the Beecher-Tilton case, and as incumbent of his present office.
